

The new home
Hiba Tak

Once upon a time there was girl called Aui. She was in 8th grade and she was 15 years old. She was so bored that there was nothing to do.

And then she said it to her dad and mom and then they told,"you can go to your friend's house". "okay", said Aui. She went to her friends house.

She played with her friends and she did not know that she is going to be in another house and after that her dad came and picked Aui up and showed her the new house .

Wow she said it is awesome.

So Aui organized her room and her dad was so impressed, “wow”, he said.

Should we play, pop to the shop. “yes”, Aui said and she played with her whole family.

Aui won and she was so happy.
